There's loads of important DOCTOR WHO info and scares inside this week's issue. Find out what's happening in the FUTURE
on page 4 – we go all the way to the end of time! Our fact-filled SERIES GUIDE continues on page 10. Plus, you can make a

Closing date: 10 March 2008.

WIN!

The original
Cybermen...

When it comes to Doctor Who monsters, Cybermen are definitely up there with Daleks and Weeping Angels as one of the scariest around.

The once-human Cybermen first appeared back in 1966, in an adventure with the First Doctor.
With their cloth faces, they looked a bit different – but were just as dangerous!

This week's FACT FILE

13 things you need to know about the future

What lies in store for the human race?

1 2008

This year! With planet Earth being enslaved by the Master and the Toclafane, it's up to Martha Jones to lead the fight back. Way to go, Martha!

Toclafane attack!

2 2012

The last surviving Dalek escapes in an American underground museum owned by Henry Van Statten. But the Doctor and Rose stop it being unleashed on the world. Phew!

3 2012

Goodbye, Chloe Webber!

The London Olympics are about to begin. An Isolus takes over Chloe Webber and, through her, makes kids vanish. Rose returns them, while the Doctor sends the Isolus home. Gold medals all round!

4 42nd century

The Human Empire is out among the stars, mining a distant planet and served by the Ood, but they are threatened by the terrifying Beast of Krop Tor.

5 42nd century

In another part of space (the Torajii System, fact fans!), humans aboard the SS Pentallian spaceship are collecting vast reserves of solar energy. Oh no you don't, says the living sun!

Hot spot for the Doctor

6 51st century

An advanced spaceship – SS Madame de Pompadour – provides a time link with 18th-century France, as Clockwork Robots try to locate the real Madame to fly their vessel.

NEW WHO INFO EVERY WEEK!

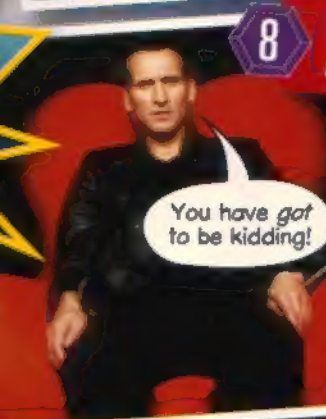

7 The year 200,000

It's now the Fourth Human Empire and Satellite Five, above Earth, is broadcasting news to people throughout the universe. Trouble is, the monstrous Jagrafess is controlling all that info.

8 The year 200,100

Big Brother and The Weakest Link are still on TV, and are being beamed from Satellite Five. The bad news is that they're part of a Dalek plan. Yikes!

You have got to be kidding!

The end for the Earth!

9 5.5/apple/26 (five billion)

People have left Earth to live elsewhere. Just as well – the planet's about to be swallowed by the sun. The only human remaining is Cassandra, a sheet of skin!

10 Five billion and 23

Humans have colonised New Earth in the Galaxy M87, where the feline Sisters of Plenitude conduct sinister experiments on clones. Plus, Lady Cassandra is back!

11 Five billion and 53

If you think traffic jams are bad now, on New Earth they last for years! Fortunately, the Doctor is on hand to put a stop to all the gridlock and pollution problems.

It's gridlock!

12 100 trillion

Humanity is still going strong! In fact, the last survivors hope to escape to the planet Utopia. The only problem is, the Master is behind the whole thing!

I am the Master!

13 Before all that...

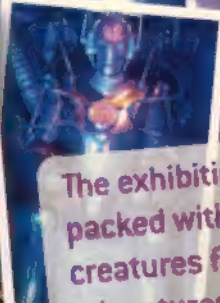

... in just one week's time – there's another fantastic issue of DWA!

Monsters invade London!

Stand by for the new Doctor Who Exhibition in London this Easter. It's coming to the Museum Hall, Earls Court, and it will be the largest display of Who stuff yet!

The exhibition will be packed with loads of creatures from the latest adventures – including Voyage of the Damned.

AFFIRMATIVE! THIS UNIT WILL ALSO BE PRESENT!

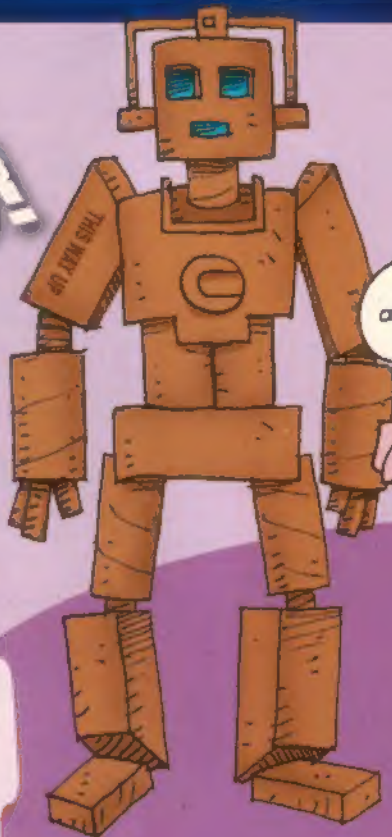

For more information, check out www.doctorwhoexhibitions.com

TIME WARPED!

WHAT IF...
Cybermen were environmentally friendly?

Imagine John Lumic had made his fortune from recycled cardboard, instead of hi-tech electronics. Would he have created the 'Cybox' men from old boxes and toilet rolls?!

Won't they get a bit soggy in the rain, sir?

Rubbish! Cardboard is the future, Mr Crane!

CYBOX ©

TALES

from the

TARDIS

Andrew Duffin's fave scene!

From: 42 Scare factor: 5/5

1

The Doctor has climbed out of the SS Pentallion to rescue Martha from an escape pod heading straight for the sun!

Don't know... how much... longer I can... last!

AARGH!

With huge effort, he remagnetises the pod and it returns to the ship.

We're being pulled back!

3

??!

Then he looks at the sun and sees something odd...

IT'S ALIVE!

AARGH!

But it's too late, the sun has struck. The Doctor climbs back inside, writhing in pain.

5

Doctor!

The pod docks and Martha and Riley race towards the Doctor.

6

STAY AWAY FROM ME!

When he looks up, his eyes are burning brightly! He warns Martha and Riley to keep back.

GASP!

COOL WHO ACTION EVERY WEEK!

7

The sun is alive and it's burning inside the Doctor!

It won't let us leave until we return what was taken.

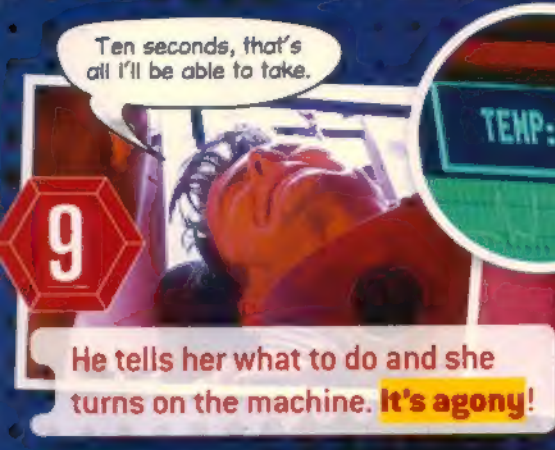

Meanwhile, in engineering, Korwin starts to defrost...

8

Martha drags the Doctor to the stasis chamber – being frozen is his only chance of survival!

I can do this! I can do it!

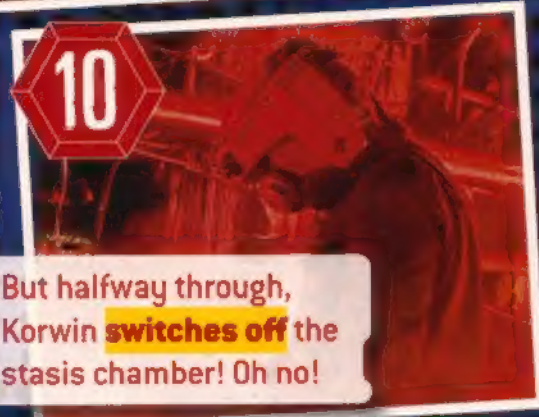

9

He tells her what to do and she turns on the machine. It's agony!

Ten seconds, that's all I'll be able to take.

ARGHHH!

10

But halfway through, Korwin switches off the stasis chamber! Oh no!

11

The Doctor knows it's too soon. He hasn't been cured yet!

No! Martha! You can't stop it yet!

12

Brave McDonnell runs off to put the power back on and discovers Korwin...

You were right. It is my fault.

13

She traps him in an airlock and sends both of them flying into the sun!

14

Meanwhile the Doctor is starting to defrost. He's turning into a Sun-Possessed!

This week's TOP FIVE

Why we love

CYBERMEN

Five reasons the metal meanies are the best!

1 They're fearless!

Because they have emotion inhibitors, Cybermen aren't scared of anything. They're not even scared of the Doctor!

2 They're deadly!

These steel giants have the strength of 10 men and can electrocute you just by touching you. Aarrgh!

3 They're scary!

At over two metres tall, Cybermen tower over their victims and they have terrifying electronic voices.

4 They're strong!

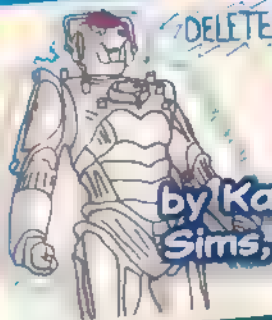

Because they're made of steel, with only their brains kept alive, Cybermen can live forever. Only really serious fire power can destroy them!

5 They stomp!

No other monster makes that spine-chilling, stomping noise when they march. At least it means you always have a warning that they're coming!

This week's SECRETS

Making Max

Ahead of the game

According to series producer Phil Collinson, Max actor George Costigan has the amazing ability to transform himself into many different things, and can act with just their head.

Find out how menacing Max Capricorn was created for Voyage of the Damned

Trapped in a box

Casting director Andy Pryor says George was "quite cool about sitting in a box" for days on end. George was a bit worried that the Max box would be claustrophobic, but it was cleverly made, so he relaxed.

Technical trickery

Although on screen Max looks like a head attached to cables, this wasn't the case in real life! George had colourful cables cleverly taped on to his T-shirt and he wore a fake neck to make it look more convincing.

Life-support system

Max's box took five and a half weeks to make! Builder and operator Colin Newman made the box using airplane landing wheels and windscreen wiper motors - just like we have in cars!

Ready to roll

"It wasn't easy moving Max," says director James Strong. "It's like the biggest radio-control car in the world. It's really heavy - and it has George in it!" Max was actually moved by the same team who control the Daleks!

THE OLD KINGS OF SKARAB

PART ONE

Script: MARTIN DAY

Art: JOHN ROSS

Letters: PAUL VYSE

Ow!

Burnt toast
again!

Now, where are we?

Ah, brilliant.
Company!

Fancy some toast?

RAAAARRRRGGHHH!

Ah. You must prefer your toast a little less crispy...

RAAAARRRRGGGHHH!

That's some fascinating weaponry you have there, Mr. er...?

Burns. Mason Burns. Explorer, scoundrel, archaeologist...

You have heard of me?

Sorry, no - but I have now!

What brings you here, Mr Burns?

"I'm searching for the final resting place of the Old Kings of Skarab."

"The Kings were creatures of terrifying power who ruled over the entire planet - but all trace of their civilisation has been lost."

RAAAARRRRGGGHHH!

Or maybe you fancy the Full English?

Yeah, I can understand that - big chap like you, needs his bacon and egg each morning!

Ah... Time Lord for breakfast?

Honestly, it's overrated!

Suddenly...

KA BOOOM!!

Don't worry! They're normally quite timid!

And where are these tombs?

If my maps are to be believed... five minutes away.

Two hours later...

Ta-daa!

Big, innit?

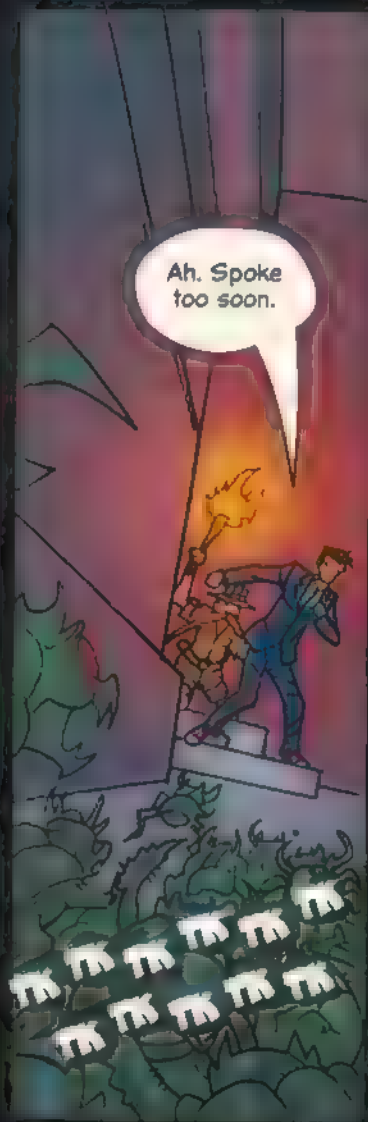

Now we just need to find a way in!

In a moment...

There you go! Piece of cake!

It all looks quiet enough...

Ah. Spoke too soon.

Come on!

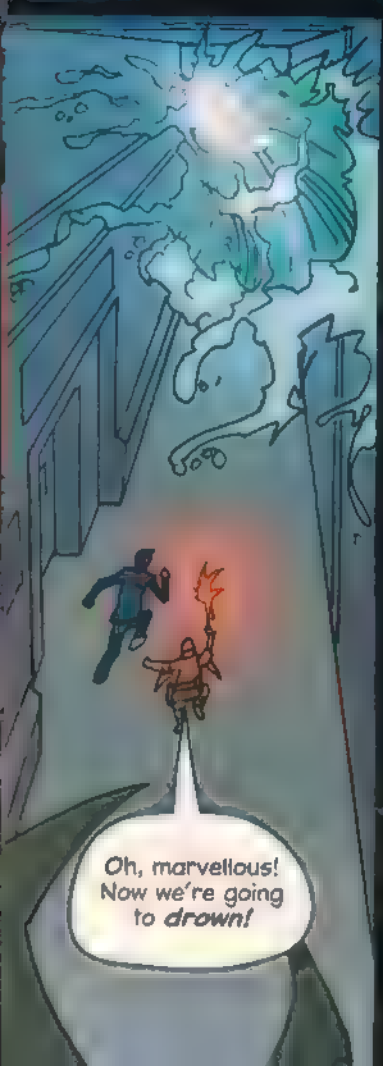

KRAK-KRAK-KRAK!

The sheer weight of those beetles was too much for the floor!

We're not out of the woods yet!

Oh, marvellous! Now we're going to drown!

In here!

SLAM!

That was close!

Don't you think all this security's a bit extreme - for a tomb?

The Skarab civilisation must've taken a pretty dim view of grave robbers.

This isn't quite what I was expecting!

Think of the column inches, Burns! You'll be more famous than ever!

Yeah - if I survive!

I might agree with you - but there doesn't seem to be anything here worth pinching!

Well, whatever the reason... This must be the central chamber! We've hit jackpot!

Burns - watch out for traps!

The riddle of the Beast

Q How could the Beast know everyone's secrets?
Jake Mulgrew

A The terrifying Beast could read the minds of the humans on Sanctuary Base 6 – remember that it seemed to have knowledge of Rose's future later in the story. So any dark secrets that the crew members were carrying inside them were completely visible to the Beast, and it used that knowledge as a way of scaring them.

WHO KNOWS!

A very sad ending

Q Have any of the Doctor's companions ever died?
Hanna-Grace Delia

A Travelling in the TARDIS may seem like a thrilling way to live, Hanna-Grace, but it's also very dangerous. Two companions – an innocent handmaiden from ancient Troy called Katarina and a secret agent from the future called Sara Kingdom – died when the First
Doctor fought to stop a Dalek battle. Later, the Fifth Doctor lost his young companion,
Adric, a brainy mathematical boy-genius, after going into battle with the Cybermen.

Time Agent Newsletter

CYBER SHOCKS!
Hello Time Agents!

Are you ready for your latest update from the Doctor Who Adventures team?

We're very excited as issue 52 is out today and it comes with a fantastic free gift - a huge inflatable Dalek! Finally we can build our own Dalek army and rule the world! Ahem... well, maybe just the BBC magazines office.

You could create your own Dalek army with your mates or you could make a game of Dalek skittles. Line them up and see how many you can knock down with a tennis ball before they try to exterminate you. But you'd better be quick!

We should warn you, this issue has been invaded by Cybermen. They upgraded the DWA cover with one of their kind, and have even marched their way onto our centre spread, in what must be one of our scariest posters ever!

This week's fact file tells you 13 things you need to know about the future. We've also got the latest information on the new Doctor Who exhibition, which is coming to London this Easter. We can't wait to go! Are you coming too?

The Doctor becomes one of the fiery Sun-Possessed in Tales from the TARDIS and you can catch up with the Doctor's amazing adventures from series two in our Ultimate guide to Doctor Who.

This week you can find out how to make a TARDIS toy box out of a shoe box and some paint. It's really easy to do and it's the best place to keep all your Doctor Who toys as everyone knows the TARDIS is bigger on the inside.

Plus, there's a fantastic new comic called The Old Kings of Skarab for you to read, a time-travelling quiz for you to take, and special secrets from Voyage of the Damned that you won't want to miss.

And you never know, your picture or photo might be in this week's issue. Better get your skates on and hurry to the shops before they sell out!

See you next Thursday!

The DWA Team

DID YOU KNOW?
The original Cybermen came from Earth's twin planet, Mondas. Like their cruel cousins on parallel Earth, they were once humanoid, but were cybernetically upgraded into metal monsters who wanted to conquer the entire universe.

TIME AGENT UPLOAD
Please keep sending us your letters and pictures of your favourite monsters and characters from Doctor Who. Email us at dwa@bbc.co.uk, putting UPLOAD in the subject line - we read every letter!
